Chapter 21: Additional Resources

21.A General Principles

The University of Michigan consistently ranks as one of the top universities in the country. One reason for its reputation is its broad array of resources. From its libraries and museums to its musical and theatrical productions and athletic events, the University offers a vibrant cultural and social life for those who live, study, and work here and for the thousands of visitors who come to Ann Arbor every year. This section of the Faculty Handbook provides a small sample of the University’s remarkable wealth of resources.

21.B Alumni/Alumnae

21.B.1 Alumni Association

The University of Michigan Alumni Association is an independent membership organization which conducts a variety of programs for alumni; operates year-round programming activities at camp Michigania (see below); provides educational opportunities; publishes the Michigan Alumnus magazine; and offers resources such as the Alumni Career Center, reunion information, an on-line alumni directory, alumni locator service, and more. The Association has more than 100,000 members. For more information, visit the Association website at <alumni.umich.edu>.

Some of the schools and colleges also have alumni organizations for their graduates. For information, contact the appropriate dean's office.

21.B.2 Alumni/ae Records Office

This office maintains records on University alumni/ae, making records available to units within the University in connection with University programs. Alumni/ae can update their records online at <https://leadersandbest.umich.edu/alumni_update/>. Requests for alumni/ae address lists or labels or for alumni/ae biographical data require advance arrangements.

21.B.3 Camp Michigania

Owned and operated by the Alumni Association since 1962, Camp Michigania is a conference and retreat facility comprised of 375 acres of woods and fields and 1.5 miles of shoreline on Walloon Lake, Michigan. Michigania is a peaceful setting for group retreats, conferences, and summer week-long camp sessions offered to Alumni Association members and their families. Spacious rooms in the Education Center offer an ideal setting for retreats for faculty and staff, and afford a non-distracting setting for conferences or retreats of up to 100 people. For more information, visit the Michigania website at <alumni.umich.edu/michigania>.
21.C Ann Arbor

Ann Arbor is home to over 116,000 people who enjoy its many offerings in the areas of education, business, emerging technology, culture, sports, festivals, parks, recreation, restaurants, shopping, and community neighborhoods. The following websites give a small taste of the attractions of this vibrant city.

21.D Bookstores

For course books, the University provides two online resources: Textbooks Tool and UBook. Information about them is available at http://www.umich.edu/~umctdocs/Textbooks.html.

Ann Arbor is home to a number of general content bookstores as well as stores that specialize in particular genres. In addition, the city regularly hosts the Ann Arbor Book Festival (http://www.aabookfestival.org/), the Ann Arbor Antiquarian Book, and the Kerrytown BookFest.

21.E Buildings

The Campus Information Centers (CIC) provide an online building search <http://uuis.umich.edu/cic/buildingproject/index.cfm>, searchable by building name, department name, item, address, or campus zip code. For each building, the website provides directions and also departments, vendors, rooms, and other items located there.
There are four main facilities on the Ann Arbor campus that offer services to the entire University community: the Michigan League, the Michigan Union, Palmer Commons, and Pierpont Commons.

Michigan League

Originally built in 1929 as a union for female students, today the Michigan League comprises a hotel facility, conference area, food service areas, the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre, a gift shop, and study areas. Michigan League’s goal is to provide a gracious and welcoming setting for all members of the University community. It is located at 911 North University, phone: 764-0446. For more information, visit the League website at <www.umich.edu/~league>.

Michigan Union

When the Michigan Union was established in 1904, its founders sought to provide “a place for meals and snacks, for reading and talking, for organization and committee meetings, for billiards and games, for dancing and assemblies.” Today, the union is a resource for the entire U-M community, with a broad array of facilities, programs, and services. Located at 530 South State Street, the building includes a food court, bookstore, meeting rooms, billiards and games room, Campus Information Center, student organization offices, meeting space, and the University Club. For more information, visit the Union website at <www.umich.edu/~munion/>. See also section 21.H.3 “Michigan Union Offices.”

Palmer Commons

Completed in 2004, Palmer Commons is a 100,000-square foot multifunctional facility located in the Life Sciences Complex. Positioned at the pedestrian bridge connecting medical and central campuses, Palmer Commons provides a location for all members of the University to make connections for meals, meetings, and events. This conference center includes meeting rooms, an auditorium, restaurants, and catering services. Palmer Commons is located at 100 Washtenaw Avenue. For more information, visit the Palmer Commons’ website at <www.umich.edu/~palmcomm>.

Pierpont Commons

The Pierpont Commons provides cultural, social, and intellectual programming; educational opportunities; food services; leisure time and recreational opportunities; services and agencies responsive to campus needs; student development programs; student leadership development and programs and opportunities; and student employment. Resources include a Campus Information Center, food court and dining room, conference and meeting rooms, bookstore, ATM machines, and a cafe. It is located at 2101 Bonisteel Boulevard on north campus. For more information, visit the website at <http://uunions.umich.edu/pierpont/>.

21.F Banks and Credit Unions

Ann Arbor is home to numerous banks and credit unions. See the Campus Information Centers website for a hyperlinked list.

The University has established a partnership with TCF Bank through the Mcard Program that offers a unique set of benefits to all Mcard holders. For more information, see the Mcard website at <www.mcard.umich.edu> or section 15.N “Mcards.”
The University of Michigan Credit Union (UMCU) and DFCU Financial are non-profit cooperatives serving only their memberships. Membership in the UMCU is open to active and retired employees, students, and alumni of the University and their immediate families, and to numerous other membership groups, see <http://www.umcu.org/membership/join/index.html>. Although according to DFCU Financial’s community charter, it’s open to people who reside, work, worship, or are enrolled in post high school educational facilities in the 68 counties of the lower peninsula of Michigan, membership is open to everyone. Those who don’t qualify for membership under the aforementioned criteria can contact DFCU Financial.

21.G Cultural Collections Council

The Cultural Collections Council (CCC) of the University of Michigan includes units dedicated to the advancement of scholarship and culture that are not credit granting. The purpose of this unique group is to utilize more effectively the extensive resources, collections, programs, and leadership qualities of the Cultural Collections Council and to promote collaboration among CCC members and other University entities in ways that enrich the educational and cultural experience on campus and in the community.

Cultural Collections Council member organizations include:

- Bentley Historical Library
- Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library and Museum (observer status)
- Kelsey Museum of Archaeology
- Matthaei Botanical Gardens and Nichols Arboretum
- Museum of Anthropology
- Museum of Art
- Museum of Natural History
- University Library
- William L. Clements Library

For more information about the Cultural Collections Council, see http://www.provost.umich.edu/ccc/index.html or contact the Office of the Provost at 764-9290.

21.H Cultural Events and Programming

21.H.1 Introduction/Ann Arbor Campus Venues

The University of Michigan offers myriad music, theater, drama, dance, and cinema programs and events at a number of campus venues. Major theatres and performance halls on campus are:

- Hill Auditorium
- Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre
- Power Center for the Performing Arts
- Rackham Auditorium
- Arthur Miller Theatre

Because the performance halls and theatres are used by a wide variety of groups, they may not be selling their tickets at the performance hall until the day of their event. Tickets for many events are sold at the following off-site ticket offices: Major Events Office/Ticketmaster, University Musical Society and University Productions. For walk-up sales go to the Michigan League Ticket Office.

Interested faculty should consult The University Record, The Michigan Daily, The Ann Arbor Observer, and individual listings circulated throughout campus for information about performances and events.

21.H.2 Academic Unit Programs

Dance, Department of

The Department of Dance offers several dance events every year; programs include students, visiting artists, and dance companies. For more information, visit their website at <www.music.umich.edu/departments/dance>.

Screen Arts & Cultures, Department of

The Department of Screen Arts & Cultures sponsors and co-sponsors numerous film-related events every semester, including the appearance of visiting screenwriters and filmmakers, as well as symposia and special screenings on campus and at the restored 1920s movie palace, the Michigan Theater. Also, several independent and University student film groups offer frequent showings of classic American, foreign, experimental, and current films, all at reduced prices in University buildings. Check The Michigan Daily and The University Record for schedules, visit the website at <wwwlsa.umich.edu/sac>.

Penny W. Stamps School of Art & Design

Contemporary art and design exhibitions are presented without charge each academic year in the Jean Paul Slusser Gallery and the Warren Robbins Gallery in the Art and Architecture Building, and the Gallery in the Duderstadt Center on north campus. A weekly lecture series is presented during the fall and winter semesters and is open to the public. Information regarding exhibitions, openings, lectures, and other events at the School can be found on the School’s website at <www.art-design.umich.edu> or in The Michigan Daily and The Ann Arbor News.

School of Music, Theatre & Dance

The School of Music, Theatre & Dance offers fully staged productions of opera, drama, musical theater, and dance each fall and winter term. In addition, many free concerts by orchestras, choirs, bands, and faculty and student chamber ensembles and soloists are offered throughout the year. The school’s bi-monthly calendar of events <uuis.umich.edu/events/calendar.cfm?sponsor=155> is available online or from the School of Music, Theatre & Dance. To be added to the mailing list for the School’s bi-monthly calendar, contact music.publicity@umich.edu. For more information, visit the website at <www.music.umich.edu>.

Theatre & Drama, Department of

Under the direction of faculty and visiting artists, the Theatre & Drama Department offers productions in the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre and the Power Center for the Performing Arts. Student-directed productions are presented in the Walgreen Drama Center. For more information, consult the website at <www.music.umich.edu/departments/theatre>.
University Productions

University Productions is part of the School of Music, Theatre & Dance. It creates stage presentations for the University Dance Company, Musical Theater Program, School of Music Opera Theater, and University Players and sells tickets for these student productions at the UMS/U Productions ticket office, located in the Michigan League. Season schedules for Department of Theatre & Drama, School of Music Opera Theater, Musical Theater, and University Dance Company performances are also available at the Michigan League Ticket Office.

University Productions manages and rents the major performing venues on campus (Hill Auditorium, Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre, Power Center and Rackham Auditorium). For more information, visit the website at <www.music.umich.edu/performances_events/perf_events.htm>.

21.H.3 Michigan Union Offices

The following offices are located in the Michigan Union and offer a variety of programming opportunities and/or sell tickets for events:

Center for Campus Involvement

The Center for Campus Involvement is a student-run center organizing concerts, workshops, lectures, and arts activities.

Michigan Union Ticket Office (MUTO)

In addition to handling ticketing for a variety of on-campus programs at venues such as the Ark, Hill Auditorium, and the Power Center, MUTO offers Ticketmaster service for the entire Midwest and Toronto. Other services include ticketing for Cedar Point and Ann Arbor Transit Authority (AATA).

University Activities Center (UAC)

The largest student-run organization on campus sponsors several student theater and production groups such as MUSKET, the Comedy Company, and the Amazin’ Blue. UAC’s Eclipse Jazz brings to Ann Arbor great names in jazz such as George Winston and Bobby McFerrin. It also offers workshops, lecture series, and other musical activities.

21.H.4 University Musical Society (UMS)

Considered one of the leading performing arts presenters in the country, the University Musical Society, founded in 1879, presents about 90 performances and 175 educational programs from September to May. UMS programming covers a wide variety of artistic expressions including orchestras, chamber and jazz ensembles, song recitals, world music troupes, dance and theater companies, sacred and early music groups, and multi-media performance art. The extensive UMS education and audience development program creates residencies in partnership with a diverse array of individual artists and scholars as well as departments, schools, and centers. Serving as a resource to the University and the community, UMS is committed to working with the faculty to enhance curricular offerings and to support student learning. Discounted student tickets are available. UMS performances and education events are listed in their brochures, which can be obtained at the box office located in the Michigan League, and performances are listed in local newspapers. For additional information, visit the website at <www.ums.org> or call 764-2538 (box office), 647-1174 (administrative).

21.I Information

A wealth of information is available through the Campus Information Center (CIC), located on the 1st floor of the Michigan Union and the north campus Information Center (NCIC), located in the Pierpont Commons Lobby. These centers have a multitude of publications, event information, and campus maps. The CIC website contains maps and information about transportation, U-M events, and includes directions to popular visitor locations in Ann Arbor Southeast Michigan from Central and North Campus. While some information is more germane to students, much of it is applicable to any new Ann Arborite. For more information, visit the website at <www.umich.edu/~info>. To get information about buildings, see the Campus Information Centers’ building search, which provides detailed information including directions, accessibility, and departments/offices.

An electronic events calendar maintained by the CIC lists exhibitions, performances, workshops, and other events on a daily, weekly, or monthly basis: <uuis.umich.edu/events/>.

21.J International Center

The University of Michigan International Center (IC) is the main interface unit for international students and scholars, American students, foreign faculty and staff, and international visitors. The Center helps international students and scholars to become accustomed to life in this country in order to make their stay an enjoyable one. The office assists American students who would like to travel abroad, whether by finding a job or scholarship, finding a place to stay, or suggesting travel spots.

IC staff provide a number of services to international faculty, scholars, students, and staff during their time at U-M, such as assisting with complex federal and state regulations concerning immigration, travel, employment, and taxes. The IC also acts as a liaison with various agencies, foundations, and sponsors; and assists University departments in complying with immigration regulations concerning the hiring of international faculty and staff. For more information, visit the website at <www.umich.edu/~icenter>. See also section 5.G.6 “International Faculty.”

21.L.1 The University of Michigan Library

The University of Michigan Library, comprised of many libraries and collections across the Ann Arbor campus, is ranked among the top ten academic library in North America. For information on the administrative structure of the U-M libraries, see section 3.K.1 “Libraries.”

The collections that comprise the U-M library system, as well as the catalogs of some of the independent campus libraries and the UM-Flint library, can be accessed via the catalogue, Mirlyn. For more information, e-mail
In addition, the University library is engaged in numerous digital library initiatives, some of which are described below:

- Deep Blue is the U-M’s permanent and accessible home for UM-authored work and for representing our rich intellectual environment online.
- Digital Library Production Service (DLPS) provides infrastructure for campus digital library collections, including both access systems and digitization services.
- HathiTrust Digital Library is a digital preservation repository which preserves and provides discovery and access to digitized content from a variety of sources, including Google, the Internet Archive, Microsoft, and in-house partner institution initiatives.
- UM Digital Library Collections and Publications is an alphabetical listing of all Production Service resources.
- UM Image Source creates and delivers both licensed and freely available collections of digital images to the U-M and Internet communities.
- UMDL Finding Aids is the central access point for electronic finding aids for archival collections provided by UM DLPS.
- UMDL Texts is the central access point for electronic books and journals created by UM DLPS.
- OAIster is a global collection of over 9.5 million previously difficult-to-access, academically-oriented digital materials.
- Michigan Publishing is the university’s library based publishing enterprise, and publishes scholarly, educational, and regional works in print and electronic formats.
- Text Creation Partnership (TCP) promotes scholarship and digital library development by creating high quality, cost-effective electronic text editions of historically significant works.

21.L.2 Additional University Libraries

Bentley Historical Library. Established in 1935 by the Board of Regents, the Bentley documents the history of the state of Michigan and the activities of its people and organizations, and serves as U-M’s official archive. Located at 1150 Beal Avenue on North Campus, this library holds more than 8,000 historical collections and archival record groups donated by citizens from across the state. Included in the holdings, which date from the era of exploration to the present day, are more than 40,000 linear feet of manuscripts; 58,000 printed volumes and newspapers; 1.5 million visual images (e.g., photographs, films, tapes); and 10,000 maps of Michigan and the Great Lakes region. The University community and visitors from around the world visit the library to conduct research in such subject areas as politics and public policy, education, migration and ethnicity, natural resources and the environment, culture and the arts, military affairs, religion, business, and industry.

Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library and Museum. This archive contains the congressional, vice presidential, and presidential papers of former U.S. President Gerald R. Ford plus selected staff members; includes an audio visual collection covering the same time period. The library is part of the National Archives and Records Administration. It is located at 1100 Beal Avenue on North Campus.

Kresge Business Administration Library. The Kresge Library provides access to a wide array of databases, books, journals, and specialized resources in the areas of accounting; business economics and public policy; computer and information systems; corporate strategy; finance and real estate; international business; law, history, and communication; marketing; operations management; organizational behavior and human resource management; and statistics and management science.
The Law Library. The Law Library has one of the world’s outstanding collections, with more than 875,000 volumes. The collection includes reports of the American federal and state courts as well as the court reports of Great Britain and the Commonwealth and of most European and South American countries. The constitutions, codes, and statutes of most foreign countries, as well as of the American states, are kept retrospectively and up-to-date. Legal documents for the United Nations, the European community, and other supranational authorities represent a particular strength of the collection; the library is a depository for European Economic Community documents and selected U.S. government documents. There are extensive special collections in the fields of Roman law, international law, comparative law, trials, biography, and legal bibliography. It is located in the Legal Research Building, 801 Monroe Street.

The Clements Library. The Clements library, located at 909 S. University (between the president’s house and Shapiro Undergraduate Library), is a non-circulating library focusing on America from the age of exploration to the beginning of this century. This collection includes manuscripts, books, photographs, sheet music, and maps.

21.L.3 Other Services

- Documents Center

  website: <www.lib.umich.edu/reserves>
- Visual Resources Collections (Open to all University faculty and graduate students who may borrow slides and photographs for classroom use.)
  E-mail: <vrcoll@umich.edu> website: <www.lsa.umich.edu/histart/>
- Document Delivery (Faculty can have books and articles (PDFs) delivered for free to a campus address, or request pickup at a convenient library location.)
  E-mail: <7-fast@umich.edu>
  website: <www.lib.umich.edu/document-delivery-services>

21.L Lost and Found

Many buildings keep lost and found items for a brief period. Valuable items such as wallets, keys, and checkbooks not claimed within a short time are forwarded to the University Department of Public Safety on Kipke Drive. A listing of lost and found locations on campus is available at the Campus Information Center.

21.M Mail Service

The University of Michigan Mail Service provides daily collection and delivery of official University mail on the Ann Arbor campus to all buildings that house University offices. Connecting service to UM-Dearborn and UM-Flint campuses is also provided. To help insure prompt campus service, mail should be addressed by name, department, room, building name, street address, and four-digit campus zip. Courier service is provided by UM-Flint three days a week between the UM-Flint and Ann Arbor campuses. Large and repetitive mailings can be addressed and inserted by University Mail Service as a fee-based auxiliary. Use of this service can greatly reduce postage and labor costs at the unit level.

The U.S. Postal Service delivers incoming U.S. letter mail and Express Mail letter mail directly to campus units once each workday. Parcels are delivered to the University Mail Service, which then delivers them daily to the campus buildings. Outgoing mail (U.S. and Express Mail) is picked up and processed by the University Mail Service daily per predetermined building schedules.

For information concerning either campus mail or U.S. mail service, contact the appropriate unit administrator or consult the University Mail Service website.

21.N Maintenance

Maintenance and repairs that are not the responsibility of the custodial staff of a building are provided by the staff in Plant Operations. The need for repair work should be reported to Plant Order Services. For more information.

21.O Museums and Galleries

The University's resources are vast and include both research and exhibit museums as well as galleries. Many of the facilities located on the Ann Arbor campus are listed below. For information about the administrative structure of the museums, see section 3.K “University of Michigan Libraries and Museums (Ann Arbor Campus).”

Exhibit Museum of Natural History

This museum, located at 1109 Geddes Road, is home to a vast array of specimens and artifacts related to paleontology, anthropology, zoology, geology, and botany. The museum includes a Hall of Evolution, Hall of Natural Sciences, Hall of Anthropology, and a planetarium (with weekend shows). The museum is especially popular with children. For more information, visit the museum website at <www.lsa.umich.edu/exhibitmuseum>.

History of Medicine, The Center for the

Located in the Simpson Memorial Institute (102 Observatory), this program focuses on the history of the health sciences of the state of Michigan and is dedicated to historical research projects and archival and preservation work. Its objective is to foster broader understanding and deeper appreciation of the pioneering role taken by the University and state of Michigan to advance knowledge of disease and promote human health. For more information, check the website: <www.med.umich.edu/medschool/chm/>.

Kelsey Museum of Archaeology

Home of the Interdepartmental Program in Classical Art and Archaeology, the Kelsey Museum houses two exhibit galleries, one for Greek and Roman material, another for Near Eastern. It is located in Newberry Hall, 434 South State Street. For more information, visit the museum website at <www.lsa.umich.edu/kelsey>.

Margaret Dow Towsley Sports Museum

This museum deals exclusively with Michigan athletics, including all 25 varsity sports; touch TV screens, mini videos, display cases. It is located in Schembechler Hall, 1200 South State Street.

Museum of Art

With the opening of the Maxine and Stuart Frankel and the Frankel Family Wing and the restoration of historic Alumni Memorial Hall, the University of Michigan Museum of Art ushered in a new era, a reimagining of the University art museum as a new “town square” for the 21st century. The UMMA seeks to transform individual and civic life by promoting the discovery, contemplation, and enjoyment of the art of our world. One of the finest university art museums in the country, UMMA holds collections representing 150 years of art collecting. A schedule of special exhibitions and interpretative programs connects visitors with the rich artistic legacy of the past and today's avant-garde.

One of the Museum’s roles is its contribution to the academic mission of the University of Michigan. From the research and study uses of the works of art in the Museum’s collections, to the teaching implications of all of our temporary exhibitions, the Museum plays a central role in the academic life of the University, even as it connects to broad regional and national community audiences.

The UMMA features galleries highlighting works drawn from the Museum’s collections of more than 18,000 artworks, special exhibition spaces, “open storage” galleries, and a range of educational and event spaces.

For more information, visit the museum website at <www.umma.umich.edu>.

Research Museums

Four research museums on the Ann Arbor campus which are administratively part of LSA are not normally open to the public. They are the Herbarium and three museums located in the Ruthven Museums Building: the Museum of Anthropology <www.lsa.umich.edu/umma>, the Museum of Paleontology <www.paleontology.lsa.umich.edu/>, and the Museum of Zoology <www.ummz.lsa.umich.edu/>.

Sindecuse Museum of Dentistry

Located in the School of Dentistry, The Gordon H. Sindecuse Museum of Dentistry collects, preserves, and exhibits dental artifacts representing stages in the development of dental technology, beginning with the pre-electric period. Research interests are served by the collections and their historic documentation. For more information, see <loeschelabs.dent.umich.edu/museum/>.

Penny W. Stamps School of Art & Design

Contemporary art and design exhibitions are presented without charge each academic year in the Jean Paul Slusser Gallery and the Warren Robbins Gallery in the Art and Architecture Building, and the Media Union Gallery in the Media Union on North Campus and the Work Gallery on State Street. A weekly lecture series is presented during the fall and winter semesters and is open to the public. Information regarding exhibitions, openings, lectures, and other events at the School can be found on the School’s website at <www.art-design.umich.edu> or in The Michigan Daily and The Ann Arbor News.
Stearns Collection (Musical Instruments)

The Stearns Collection is a vast collection of musical instruments from around the world. The University owns more than 3,000 instruments; about 200 are on display at any time. The collection is located in the Moore Music Building on North Campus. For more information, see <www.music.umich.edu/research/stearns_collection/index.htm>.

21.P Natural Areas

21.Q.1 Matthaei Botanical Gardens and Nichols Arboretum (MBGNA)

The University of Michigan’s Matthaei Botanical Gardens and Nichols Arboretum provide a unique combination of public and University-related conservation, education, and research programs at the Matthaei Botanical Gardens property at 1800 N. Dixboro Road as well as at the Nichols Arboretum site at 1610 Washington Heights. Additional research preserves include Horner’s Woods and Mud Lake Bog.

Matthaei offers more than 350 acres of gardens and natural terrain, includes an extensive multi-climate conservatory containing plants of botanical interest from all parts of the world, and provides a wide variety of special events, lectures, workshops, classes and volunteer opportunities.

The “Arb” is a 123-acre living collection that includes wetland, prairie, and woodland ecosystems and many special collections including peony, lilac, and Appalachian plants. Special events and programs that include poetry walks, outdoor theatre performances, tours, classes, and volunteer opportunities are offered. For information on the James D. Reader, Jr. Urban Environmental Education Center and various programs, visit the MBGNA website.

21.Q.2 Forests/Reserves

The University of Michigan owns several natural forestry research properties that are operated under the direction of the School of Environment and Sustainability (SEAS) (formerly the School of Natural Resources and Environment) and are open to the public:

- Edwin S. George Reserve
  5650 Doyle Road, Pinckney

- Newcomb Tract (shared by LSA and SEAS)
  8420 Strawberry Lake Road, Dexter

- Saginaw Forest
  3900 W. Liberty

- Stinchfield Woods
  9401 Stinchfield Woods Road, Pinckney
21.Q Observatories and Planetariums

Astronomy Department

The Astronomy Department is home to the U-M Lowbrow Astronomers, a group of amateur astronomers that run public open houses with a 24-inch optical telescope at Peach Mountain Observatory located in Dexter, Michigan. The Department is also part of the Magellan project to build the largest private ground-based optical telescope facility in the Southern Hemisphere, and has maintained large research projects around the world. The Angell Hall Observatory (on the roof of Angell Hall) was established in 1926-27 and, with the addition of new telescopes, still operates as student observatory for hands-on instruction. Also see Astronomy Department facilities.

The Judy and Stanley Frankel Detroit Observatory

The historic University of Michigan Detroit Observatory (circa 1854), located on the Ann Arbor campus, is open at various times as a museum, hosts a monthly lecture series, and also serves as a scholarly center for the study of 19th century science, technology, and culture. This structure, located at 1398 E. Ann Street, is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. A historic restoration was completed in 1999.

Planetarium

The Museum of Natural History, located in the Biological Sciences Building at 1105 North University Avenue, has a planetarium that offers weekend shows.

21.R Printing, Graphic Design, and Photography

21.S.1 Michigan Creative

Michigan Creative is a team of designers, communicators, and web professionals who work for units across the University campus and Health System. They offer marketing consulting such as marketing strategy, website design, brand design, editorial services, and mailing.

21.S.2 Printing Services

Michigan Print-Copy-Mail is the University’s full-service printing resource, supplying full-color printing projects, as well as copies and document reproduction. It also provides client education, hands-on advice for software application and disk preparation, assistance with planning, and project management.

21.S.3 Michigan Photography

Michigan Photography offers a comprehensive central photography service and archive in its facility in the basement of the LSA Building. Of special interest to faculty on a fee-for-service basis: quality black and white and color portraiture available to meet all needs (book jackets, publicity photos, media requests, etc.); slides and prints (or scans) from books, periodicals, or 3-D objects for teaching and... research needs; plus a full range of digital services, including scanning, e-mail transmittal of images, photo-manipulation, retouching, and restoration.

21.S Publications

The University Record is published on Mondays for faculty and staff of the University of Michigan by News Service. The current issue and links to archival issues are available on-line at The University Record website <www.umich.edu/~urecord>. The University Record seeks to increase understanding within the University, to recognize accomplishments, to report on progress and issues, and to inform faculty and staff about changes in state and federal policies that could affect the University. Copies are available at distribution boxes at more than 80 campus locations and by subscription.

Michigan Today, a publication for Michigan alumni and friends, is published three times a year by News Service. Michigan Today is designed to entertain and educate, to keep readers in touch with the intellectual life of the University, and to reinforce identity with and support for the institution. Issues are distributed at more than 80 campus locations and mailed to approximately 350,000 alumni and friends. The current issue and links to archival issues are available on-line at the Michigan Today website <www.umich.edu/news/MT/>.

The Michigan Daily is published weekdays during the academic year and weekly during the spring and summer terms by University of Michigan students. The Michigan Daily is a member of the Associated Press and the Associated Collegiate Press. Distributed at many campus locations, The Michigan Daily also is available by subscription and through Michigan Daily Online <www.michigandaily.com>. To contact The Michigan Daily news desk.

Many of the University’s schools, colleges, and departments also have their own publications that address issues of interest to their constituencies.

The UM-Dearborn and UM-Flint campuses publish periodicals for faculty and staff, alumni, and students. At UM-Dearborn, The Reporter, for faculty and staff, is published every two weeks during the academic year, and The Legacy, for alumni, is published twice a year. The UM-Dearborn student newspaper is The Michigan Journal. For more information about the UM-Dearborn, visit its website at <www.umd.umich.edu>.

At UM-Flint, Currents is published monthly for faculty and staff. The UM-Flint alumni publication, Bridges, is published three times a year. The student newspaper at the UM-Flint is The Michigan Times. For more information about the UM-Flint, visit its website at <www.um-flint.edu>.

21.T Religious and Spiritual Resources

The Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti areas are home to more than 100 churches, synagogues, mosques, interfaith centers, and places of worship.

A set of spiritual resources can be found on the Division of Student Affairs website <http://studentaffairs.umich.edu/studentsupport/spiritual>.

In addition, a comprehensive guide to area churches, synagogues, and religious fellowships is available online from ArborWeb’s City Guide.
21.U Sports and Recreational Resources

21.V.1 Athletic Tickets

U-M’s athletic events, particularly home football games, are enormously popular. Faculty may purchase season tickets to football, basketball, and hockey games. See mgoblue.com.

21.V.2 Facilities and Resources

Athletic Department Facilities

Two facilities of the Athletic Department, the Varsity Tennis Center and the Indoor Track Building, are open to faculty under certain terms and conditions.

The Varsity Tennis Center has eight indoor courts and 12 outdoor courts. Current faculty with a minimum 50% appointment and retired faculty are eligible for membership and can sponsor members of their household.

Cross Country Skiing

Cross country skiing is available at Stinchfield Woods (see section 21.Q.2 “Forests/Reserves”) and rental equipment is available at North Campus Recreation Building (NCRB) Rental Center.

Golf

The University has two golf courses. The U-M Golf Course, located at the corner of W. Stadium and Main Street, is open to faculty and staff of all University of Michigan campuses on a daily green-fees basis. Faculty and staff members must present their U-M ID when registering (see section 15.N “Mcards”). For more information, visit the website at <mgoblue.com>.

Radrick Farms Golf Course is a membership-only golf course, with membership open to faculty, staff, and alumni. It is located at 4875 Geddes Road. There are also a number of other golf courses in the area, both public and private.

Recreational Sports Department

Faculty and staff in their immediate families are eligible to purchase an annual or term Facilities User Pass for membership to the Department of Recreational Sports facilities and programs. Programs include: 31 sport leagues and events in intramurals; 40 club sports from Aikido to wrestling; an outdoor adventure trip program and rental center; an experiential learning challenge program; a summer children’s camp; and a personal services program of clinics, personal trainers, and prescription exercise. Facilities include Central Campus Recreational Building (CCRB), Intramural Sports Building (IMSB), and North Campus Recreational Building (NCRB), described below. Members have access to all recreational sports buildings and equipment rooms and can rent lockers and towels. Daily guest passes are also available. For more information, visit the Recreational Sports website at <www.recsports.umich.edu>.

Central Campus Recreation Building (CCRB)
Offers badminton, basketball, volleyball, dance, handball/paddleball/racquetball courts, wallyball courts, squash courts, swimming at the Margaret Bell Pool, personal exercise, weight conditioning, a 1/8-mile jogging track, martial arts, and saunas. It is located at 401 Washtenaw.

Intramural Sports Building (IMSB)

Offers basketball, volleyball, personal exercise, weight conditioning, handball/paddleball/racquetball courts, squash courts, swimming, saunas, and martial arts. There is an intramural sports program including a Graduate/Faculty/Staff Division of competition.

North Campus Recreation Building (NCRB)

Offers badminton, basketball, volleyball, tennis, handball/paddleball/racquetball courts, a squash court, swimming, personal exercise, weight conditioning, 1/10-mile jogging track, and saunas. It is located at 2375 Hubbard.

Skating

Yost Ice Arena, located at 1000 South State Street, offers academic year public skating, both skating and hockey classes, and programs for youth and adults. For more information, see http://www.mgoblue.com/yost/index.html.

UMove Fitness

The School of Kinesiology's UMove Fitness program offers a variety of classes (aquatics, exercise, sports) to faculty, staff, students, and members of the Ann Arbor community. UMove also has personal trainers and offers weight training, super circuits yoga, aerobics, and other programs designed to increase personal fitness. For more information, visit the website at www.kines.umich.edu/content/umove/u-move-fitness.

21.V Transportation

21.W.1 Airport Transportation

A variety of shuttle, taxi, and car services provide transportation to Detroit Metro Airport. Online searches will yield current information.

21.W.2 Bicycles

Bicycles are a popular means of transportation around campus and there are many bike stands to accommodate parking.

To comply with city and University ordinances, bicycles must be registered with the City of Ann Arbor through the city clerk's office, which can be accomplished in the ways described below. Registering your bike is important – if your bike is stolen and then recovered, the city will have the necessary information.

To assist U-M students, faculty and staff with the registration process, officers from the University Police Department (UMPD) register bicycles at no charge (UMPD pays the fee) at a few campus events at the beginning of each fall term. To learn of times and locations, watch for announcements, check the UMPD website <http://police.umich.edu/>.

For more information, including bike maps and renting bike lockers, which are available at the medical campus and Wolverine Tower, see “Bicycling in Ann Arbor,” on the website of the U-M’s Department of Parking and Transportation Services: <http://pts.umich.edu/alternative_transportation/bicycles.php>.

21.W.3 Buses

University of Michigan Transit Services

University of Michigan buses are free to all faculty, staff and students on campus. Bus routes include Commuter, Northwood (Weekly and Weekend), the U-M Medical Campus intercampus, and other routes. No identification is needed to ride on the buses. For more information routes and schedules, see <http://pts.umich.edu/maps/>.

Mride – Ann Arbor Area Transportation Authority (AAATA) Bus Service

All active University of Michigan-Ann Arbor faculty, staff, temporaries and students can ride any Ann Arbor Area Transportation Authority (AAATA) fixed-route bus service at any time of day, any day of the week without paying a fare by presenting their valid MCard Id (white or yellow) to the bus driver. This benefit is a result of an agreement between the U-M and AAATA.

For current route maps and schedules, including service to Wolverine Tower, Chelsea MI, and Dexter MI, visit the AAATA website.

21.W.4 Parking

As in most university communities, parking on campus is at a premium. A color-coded parking system is used in all University lots and structures. Four tiers of parking permits <https://permits.pts.umich.edu/eBusiness/cmn/index.aspx> are available at a progressively lower cost, reflecting the proximity of the parking locations to core campus areas.

To purchase a parking permit, newly hired faculty or those returning from a leave of absence must verify their eligibility by presenting a completed Parking Request Form that the appropriate administrator has signed. University retirees may purchase a special parking permit that authorizes parking in certain lots and structures. Proof of retirement status must be presented.

For more information, including parking maps and access to the Parking Request Form (see Forms), visit the Parking & Transportation Services website.

AATA Park ‘N’ Ride Program

This program allows people to park for free all day (Monday through Friday) at one of the Park & Ride lots and ride the Ride downtown from five parking locations. Park ‘N’ Ride lots are the State Street Commuter Lot/U-M Tennis Center Lot, Pioneer High School Lot, Miller Road Lot, Maple Village Shopping Center Lot, and Green Road Lot. Bus schedules are available from the AATA website <www.theride.org/ParkAndRide.asp> and from the U-M Parking & Transportation Services office.
21.W.5 Transportation at Night and Other Special Transit Services

Both the University of Michigan and the City of Ann Arbor offer evening transportation services and other special transit services to assist faculty, students, and staff in remaining safe and secure. Some of the transit services described below are provided to meet special needs or to fill in the gaps between regular service hours.

S.A.F.E.WALK/Night Van

A campus accompaniment service that functions as an alternative to walking alone on campus at night. Coordinated by staff at the Division of Public Safety & Security (DPSS), S.A.F.E.WALK/Night Van is free of charge and available to all members of the University community. During the fall and winter semesters, the service is provided daily from 10:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m. Just request a van to transport you to your Destination. An employee from U-M Transportation Services will come to your campus location and drive you to your requested location (within a one-mile driving radius of Central and North campuses). During non-service hours, DPSS will identify alternative service providers.

State Street Ride

Service from any U-M building to the South State Street Commuter (Park and Ride) lot after buses have concluded daily service. To request a ride, phone Yellow Cab directly. The service is available Monday through Friday from 10:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m.

Night Ride/Holiday Ride (AAATA)

Night Ride is a late-night, shared-ride taxi service that provides round-the-clock, public transportation within Ann Arbor. Also available on all major Holidays. All Night Ride trips must be scheduled by phone reservation.

Ride Home

Free shared-ride taxi service for students, faculty and staff to their residence hall, parked vehicle or local residence. Available after University transit buses and shuttles have concluded daily service.

Paratransit

Scheduled door-to-door service for disabled students, faculty and staff. To register for the rides, all applicants must contact Services for Students with Disabilities.

Emergency Ride Home

Provides free cab rides in emergency situations for faculty, staff, students and temporaries who use alternative parking (van poolers, bus commuters, bicyclists, walkers, etc.) or off-site parking locations. Use of the program is limited to six times per permit year. To request a ride, call the Department of Public Safety’s non-emergency number. (Underwritten by Parking & Transportation Services.)
21.W.6 Other Transportation Options

The U-M Parking & Transportation Services website provides information about the options noted below:

Car Pools

Faculty and staff are strongly encouraged to car pool with others. While Parking and Transportation Services does not require car pools to identify themselves, the office asks that faculty and staff register their car pools to allow the Parking Services office to communicate with pool members. Those seeking to form a car pool might consider the Ann Arbor Transportation Authority Mi RideShare, a free, publicly funded commuter service that informs people about less expensive and environmentally friendly commuting alternatives and Ann Arbor Transportation Authority’s Guaranteed Ride Home program for poolers theride.org/guaranteed.

VanPool Program

The University supports ridesharing through this employer sponsored vanpooling program by paying the monthly fee for participating faculty and staff and providing each vanpool with a designated parking space on campus. The vanpool rider’s only expense is sharing the fuel costs associated with running the van.

Faculty, staff, and students who are ineligible for the U-M VanPool program or who live in areas not served by established van pools might consider the services of MichiVan www.vpsiinc.com/Home/index.asp?OID=27, a private provider of commuter vanpool transportation services, with which AATA is a partner.

Daily Parking

‘Daily’ Blue parking is available for faculty and staff who do not possess an annual parking option but occasionally need to bring their vehicles to campus.

21.W University of Michigan Press

The University of Michigan Press annually publishes about 170 new titles. These are predominantly scholarly books, although the Press also actively publishes books for upper-level undergraduate and graduate students, a broad range of textbooks for English as a Second Language, and regional titles for a popular audience. In addition, the Press publishes some digital publications, both on CD and networked.

The Press publishes work from scholars throughout the world and welcomes proposals from Michigan faculty. The Press’s academic publishing serves the disciplines of anthropology, classics, economics, German and medieval history, law, literary criticism, political science, performance studies, and gender studies. In the regional list, natural history is emphasized.

The Press markets its publications internationally, using a team of commissioned sales representatives to reach bookstores throughout the USA and Canada, Britain, and Europe, Australia and New Zealand, Japan and other markets in Asia. Direct mail, advertising, review copies, and exhibits at major academic meetings are used to inform individual scholars and libraries of the Press’s publications.
